CRIME RUN

Pool Event   Points: 25

SPIIRAN Pharmaceuticals was on the verge of saving all of mankind from its troubles. Apoteros, the ultimate drug, as it was called, was accidently discovered by Gaia. A drop of it could cure any disease, by strengthening the defense of our body. But now, the only vial containing Apoteros is lost.

Every ledger that mentioned Apoteros is in ashes. Gaia, Head of Apoteros division, the only person left with the brains to manufacture it, has also gone missing the very night the drug was lost.

SPIIRAN suspects its rival Rain ISP of the robbery. All the lead we have is a sheet of parchment with lines from Geeta

"Now, I am become Death, the destroyer of worlds."

Rain ISP, to lift off the blame thrown over it, has appointed you as the Cheif Investigators of the case.

You now arrive at the crime scene with all the tools to burst the case and ofcourse with your Razor sharp intellect.

Problem Statement: You need to fit in all the scattered pieces of evidence against the criminal and its your responsibility to save the world. You should be able to decipher all the crypts in your way and employ various forensic techniques to get the job done.

Rules and Regulations:

1) From every pool, ONE team consisting of FOUR members would be allowed to participate in this event. (Freshmen Only)

2) 15 points are awarded for every successful test result (5 tests in all)

3) 10 points are awarded for a successful result for the bonus side quest (1 test)

4) 10 points are awarded for final successful identification of the criminal. (Suspect profiles will be provided)

5) 5 points are awarded to the team who finishes the event in the shortest time.

Tie-breaker:

The prime criteria for deciding the winner in case of ties would be on the basis of shortest time – the team who finishes faster wins.

In case of a tie in this time criteria, bonus questions would be posed to the teams until one emerges victorious.

Special Rules:

1) Use of internet during the event is prohibited for all members in the working team

2) Once a result is obtained for a test, the test cannot be conducted again.

Remember you haven't got all the time in the world, people are dying even as we speak, so hurry and be a hero.
